A must read for all who have been on the journey of life and asked those questions, WHY?...because the world we are in today has not given those answers and this book does and makes sense of the whole delusion and will ultimately bring you back to the self and the new path for the human existence.

"We need 'FREEDOM' argued, we need it to be read and talked about and understood...That is why I love the Royal Geographical Society (RGS). You talk to these thinking people, they may agree, they may disagree, but you'll have set some little spark alight to make them think afresh, and make them think differently. Jeremy did it with me, I hope he does it with you".

- Sir Bob Geldof, at the launch of Jeremy Griffith's book 'FREEDOM' at the RGS, June 2016

Sir Bob Geldof gave the key note address at the launch of Jeremy Griffith's breakthrough #newbook 'FREEDOM: The End Of The Human Condition' at the Royal Geographical Society (with IBG) in London earlier this month.

"I've never felt the world more threatening, more fractious, more fissiparous, more febrile... We need to think, we need new ideas, we need proselytisers, we need obsessed people, which I think Jeremy [Griffith] is. We need him to be questioned. We need FREEDOM argued, we need it to be read and talked about and understood... That is why I love the Royal Geographical Society. You talk to these thinking people, they may agree, they may disagree, but you'll have set some little spark alight to make them think afresh, and make them think differently. Jeremy did it with me, I hope he does it with you". Sir Bob #Geldof

The real debate about both the horrific inequality in the world and about the terrorism and frightening instability in the world requires analysis of the differences in races, genders, generations, countries, civilisations and cultures, but until the human condition could be explained and the upset state of the human condition compassionately understood and thus defended that debate could not take place.
